

Wolf Schubert-K. & The Sacred Blues Band

The Next Few Miles

Wolf Schubert-K.	Lead Vocals/Acoustic Guitars/Telecaster/Harp
Rebecca Berg	Piano and Organ/Harmony Vocals
Muli Müller	Dobro/Mandolin/Electric and Acoustic Guitars
Dirk Rucker	Bass
Stefan Myschor	Drums and Percussion

Lost

I'm lost unto that world
 I'm lost unto that world
 I'm lost unto that big old world
 I'm lost unto that world

I'm lost unto that life
 I'm lost unto that life
 I'm lost, I'm found, I struggle and strive
 I'm lost unto that life

I'm lost unto that girl
 I'm lost unto that girl
 She's young she's proud,
 She's oh so fine
 And I'm proud that she's all mine

One day I'm gonna die
 One day I'm gonna die
 One day I'll fly up to my lord
 Goodbye my love goodbye

Rain

I'm standing at the station
 Waiting for that midnight train
 Hoping to find salvation
 And I won't look back again
 Rain, rain falling from the sky
 You caused me pain & grief
 But you won't make me stay

I'm leaving on a nightrain
 Riding to a brand new day
 Leaving your spell behind me

You won't make me stay and Think about you night and day
 Rain, rain falling from the sky
 You caused me pain & grief
 But you won't make me stay

Tears, tears, falling from my eyes
 But soon there' ll be relief
 I will no longer travel
 And I'll find peace of mind

Who will catch you

Who will catch you when you're falling
 Who will find you in the dark
 Who will hear you when you're calling
 Who will love you as you are

Who will wake you in the morning
 Who will hold you when I'm gone
 Is there any little chance for me
 When you're lying in his arms

Chorus

Loving you is the easiest thing
 The easiest thing in the world
 The hardest part is to understand
 The ways of a crazy girl

Who do you meet when you are dreaming
 Who's on your mind when you're all alone
 How will I know what you are feeling
 When you're lying in his arms

Sweet Pain

It's the last day of winter
 The first days of mud soaked spring
 Dark is the silence and the sky
 And the mood that I'm in

You cover my heart and my soul
 You darken my brain
 As I look out my window
 My eyes follow the rain

Sweet pain, sweet pain
 You cover my heart and my soul
 Sweet pain

In this dark valley
 Where the chill winds roar
 I'm singing travelling songs
 'Til my voice grows sore

My soul more than ever
 Desires to touch the sky
 On heavenly as my mind
 Starts to fly

Sweet pain, sweet pain...

Where have you gone
 My fatherly friend
 Now more than ever
 Would I need your helping hand
 Seems music has stopped
 Since you passed away
 I still hear your voice
 As my mind goes astray
 Sweet pain, sweet pain..

On my knees

I feel so restless and so alone
 Seems I'm a million miles from home
 In a lonely room I'm left to think
 A shattered life and much to many drinks
 How much it hurts, the naked truth
 I'm left to stew in my own juice

I'm on my knees for a christian prayer
 I tried to stop but I just failed
 The party's over, I played my role
 May the good lord save my soul

Where's all the liquer to drown these fears
 Some highproof booze would wash away the tears
 It feels so bad to be caged
 I guess it's time to turn the page
 For there's a door to ev'ry key
 For sure this cage was made for breakin' free

I'm on my knees for a christian prayer
 I tried to stop but I just failed
 The party's over, I played my role
 May the good lord save my soul

Now ain't the right time

Silence is golden, words have great weight
So much is better unsaid
If words were stones then birds couldn't fly
Amazing the knots tongues can tie

Chorus

'Cus now ain't the right time to talk to me I've got a broken heart that just needs some time to mend
Now ain't the right time to talk to me
I need a change of pace, a brand new face, a place where I can Fall in love again

A promise is words and words are just wind
And wind fans a quiet man's flame
Flames burn to ember, ash scatters wide
A promise has fire inside

The words on my mind are the sands of time
They trickle down slow to my heart
Weighed down by memory I'm sinking tonight
Alone in the flickering light

Steady Company

Won't you come around here for a while Won't you come around and make me smile
'Cause my live seems empty without you
I'm in need of your sweet company

Won't you be the one who holds me tight
When I feel lonely in a lonesome night
Let us talk and let me know your dreams
Even though you think they're weird

Won't you be the one who cares
For me every night and day
And I will be the one who shares
All your troubles, all your fears
Be my steady company
Be my steady company

I know this ain't such an inviting place
But in my heart you'll find lots of space
I don't have that much money in my coat
But I got lots of love in my soul

Won't...

Too blind to see

Think of the days spent together
On the road in a tour bus
Resisting all kinds of weather
On the way to the next gig
Whistling at some french chicks
Who return their cutest smile
Kept Us warm for the next few miles

Above all we were Laughing & drinkin'
Playin' our guitars
Yellin' & singin'

You were not alone when you came back home
Sweetheart was waiting for you But things didn't work out the way they used to
Sweetheart was caught in a dream
Love, somehow, just ran out of steam

So you tried it the way shattered couples do Playin' restauration games, trying to poke the flame

Chorus

You better open up your eyes
Stop tellin' yourself lies
You better look out
And find a brand new game to play,
hey hey hey
So you talked and you tried, and you tried and you talked Everything seemed allright
But things didn't work out the way they used to

Sweetheart was going to leave
Much to hard to believe
So there was nothing to think
But a lot to drink
And a lot to worry about
Lot's of cigarettes were stubbed out

Chorus

So you thought of the days we had together
On the road in the tourbus resisting all kinds of weather
But there were no more gigs
And no more french chicks
And nobody returned a smile
The singer got drunk
And the guitar got restless
Your life was completely off beat
Life knocked you off of your feet

Chorus

You better open up your eyes
Stop tellin' yourself lies
You better look out
And find a brand new game to play,
hey hey hey
You're too blind to see,
Brother believe me
You better look out
And find a brand new game to play,
hey hey hey

The ballad of Rusty & Sin

Rusty was crazy and Sin she was insane
She was only 24 and he was just a grown up man

Rusty sang her lovesongs and taught her guitar chords

At the break of day they ended up in each others arms

Chorus

Maybe they were dreamers breaking all the rules

Maybe they were crazy, maybe they were fools Maybe it was madness to believe their love could win

But Rusty would give anything to feel that way again

They walked on together down a stoney road Trying just to help each other carrying their load

Their love was like the weather, their love was like the sun
Their love was like the seasons, it's here and then it's gone

Chorus

No matter they're together, no matter they're apart
They always have each other tattooed to the heart

He's still playing love songs and I guess he always will She's still in love with him, it all seems so unreal

Kiss like Jimi

Don't you kiss like Jimi plays guitar
Tonight I don't need any superstar
Keep me warm and stroke me tender
Not in the way Jimi treated his Fender

I just need someone to talk to
How she broke my heart

Don't you smile like Norma Jean
I don't need no bedroom-eyed queen
Don't need no make-up just a warm heart
A friend in need from the very start

I just need someone to talk to
How she broke my heart
Lend me an ear and stay close to me
Maybe later, honey, I'll love you

Let's bring the matter to a point
Cuddle up and waste some time Leave this world for a little while Leaving gravity far behind

See the sun

She had the face of an angel
But the devil deep inside
And she acted like a virgin
Never touched by anyone
But her real face was only Visible for some

She was as pretty as a painting
With her oriental charms
She dressed up like a gypsy

And she was always on the run
She travelled the whole world
Just to see the sun

There were plenty of men
She treated viciously unkind
So she didn't find the real thing
To her love was something strange
But she tried and tried and tried
Just to see the sun

One day she lit a fire
In the place she lived
It burnt down to the ground
So she was free to move along
It seemed she did it
Just to see the sun

Comin' home

I am a workin' for my boss
Brakin' my back, Oh at what cost
Sorrow is constant, joy seems so brief
I'm in need of shelter I need sweet relieve

Chorus

And I'm comin' home to you, my lord
And I won't come back no more

Years rush by life goes so fast
Silver arrow leaving the past
One day I see myself run free
Like a river down to the sea

Chorus

I'm comin' home to you, my lord
I won't come back no more

I'm flyin' home to you my lord
I won't return no more

I am a workin' for my boss
Breakin' my back, oh at what cost

Darkeyed angel

There is something brewing
I don't know what it is
It just feels so frightening
It takes away my breath

I laid down my weapons
I laid down the guns
I surrendered long ago
I'm on the run

Yesterday is over
Yesterday is gone
I can't change things anymore
I'm so sorry for what I've done

I went to see the gypsy
To get my fortune read
I did not see so clearly
There were devils in my head

She told me not to worry
The future's bright and clear
Open up your eyes, boy,
No more troubles no more fear

Cause there's a dark eyed angel
Waitin' there for you
But she won't wait forever
You got to face the truth